

If you can broadcast "Playboy" via satellite, how the heck can you object to traffic? What's this all about? A "traffic" premium channel? Is every little special interest going to be called a "premium" channel in the future, ala HBO, Showtime etc. ?